TO AWARD SEVEN LOCAL YOUTHS HIGHEST CATHOLIC SCOUT HONOR

Boy Scouts from three Catholic churches—St. Agnes, St. James and St. Jerome's—will attend the annual award ceremony for the highest Catholic Scout honor at the Town Hall Saturday afternoon in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston. At this service all boys who have earned the Ad Altare Dei (To the Altar of God), the highest award in Catholic scouting, are presented this award by His Excellency, the Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing.

Seven of the boys who will receive this honor are from Arlington: five from St. James' parish and two from St. Agnes'. They are John Herzog, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie J. Herzog; Paul Jennings, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Jennings; Joseph King, Hall.

COUNCIL COMMENTS LOCAL ASSOCIATION

For its outstanding coverage in service to the townspeople of Arlington, the local Visiting Nursing Association and personnel were highly praised by the Nursing Council of United Community Services in Metropolitan Boston.

In a letter to Mrs. Francis Chamberlain, chairman of the local unit, Miss Sophie Nelson, chairman of the Boston Council, commented on the low budget maintained here in spite of the amount of work and visiting done by the nurses, the old age assistance cases, and the well-child clinic, which more than meets the cost of services in behalf of Old Age Assistance cases, etc. This also probably covers the cost of the well-child conference.

The letter in part to Mrs. Chamberlain is as follows:—

"Dear Mrs. Chamberlain: It was found that in 1949 the cost per visit was $1.48 as against an average of $1.68 for an organization of this type and kind, the reason for this being the nurses made more visits than the average without increasing their expenses."

"The visits per nurse year were 2300 as against an average of 2200 visits per nurse for an agency of this size. The staff consists of a supervisor, four nurses and a clerk. The supervisor made 832 visits. The overhead is low, being $948.00 against an average of $1207.00."

"Your organization maintains a well-child conference. The earnings were good, being more than half of the current expenses, and the town appropriates $2000.00, which more than meets the cost of services in behalf of Old Age Assistance cases, etc. This also probably covers the cost of the well-child conference."

"The increase asked for in this budget is largely in relation to salaries and the committee feels the organization should have the amount asked for, since they undoubtedly need more relief. This organization would seem to be run on a very economical basis."

MARDI GRAS

Mrs. G. Edward Wilkins staged the annual Mardi Gras on Tuesday in the vestries of the Pleasant Street Congregational Church. In surroundings of effective decorations in keeping with this festive day, two hundred and fifty guests participated in the fun. The waitresses, all in Mardi Gras costumes, served pastries which were varied, attractive to the eye as well as to the palate.

Forty-nine prizes were distributed by Mrs. Wilkins who was witty in her presentation speeches, as well as prettily gownned in a pink ballerina costume.

The chosen queen, Mrs. Carl Bates, was crowned as she sat in the high-back, Anna Bradshaw chair.

The affair was given by the Mysticside Group of the Anna Bradshaw Guild.

Behind the scenes the workers were Mesdames Clarence H. Brown, Harry B. Spong, Andrew J. Magnus, Stuart MacDonald (chairman of the group) and Andrew C. Keller, Starr W. Stanyan, Emory F. West, Harold B. Wood, Miss Vivian Barker and Miss Florie Whitton.

C. of C. Ups Dues

Last night at a dinner meeting at the Winchester Country Club, the Arlington Chamber of Commerce voted to raise its membership dues.

The new rates are $5 for civic, $10 for retail merchants, $16 for chain stores, and $25 for industrial. The former schedule was $3 for civic, $5 for business membership.

The major part of the meeting was devoted to a detailed discussion of the proposed "Park & Shop" on the Turnpike. Nathaniel Hamlen, who heads the group of investors, explained the proposal and showed the lay-out. A question and discussion period followed.

Friends of Drama Enjoy Burns' Ballet Pupils

Mrs. Barbara Thomson, chairman of entertainment of the Friends of the Drama, through the cooperation of Mary Corbett Burns, a club member, presented an unusually enjoyable program at its monthly meeting Sunday, when some one hundred pupils of Mary Corbett Burns presented episodes from Mother Goose rhymes, also her more advanced pupils in English classic ballet.

Several children of club members were seen in the different nursery stories. Charlotte Thomson was Bo-Peep; Judith Burns was in the Silver Bells episode; Deirdre Mulholland, Barbara Ring and Heidi Snow in "Four and Twenty Black Birds"; Beverly Doyle, "Where Are You Going, My Pretty Maid"; Carol Bertagna, "Queen of Hearts"; Sandra and Heidi Snow, "Georgie Porgie and His Girl".

The costumes of the children and the piano accompaniment by David Pollard added much to the artistic program.

Russell Hamlet, president of the Friends, presided over the business session.

The afternoon closed with a coffee hour and social in charge of Mrs. Milton C. Paige Jr., Miss Marjorie Munroe, Mrs. Mortimer A. French, Mrs. Carol K. Freyer.

Mrs. Hamlet was at the coffee table with its centerpiece of white and red carnations.

General Alarm Fire Demolishes Mass. Ave. House

The spontaneous ignition of sawdust scrapings containing paint remover was given by Fire Chief Tierney as the cause of the devastating blaze that gutted the 22-room dwelling at Marathon st. and Massachusetts ave. late Sunday night.

In the first general alarm fire since 1931, firemen from six other towns and all Arlington apparatus battled the stubborn flames for hours before bringing it under control. Beginning in the second floor of the three story house, the fire spread upward and a hot air explosion finally blew off the slate roof, freeing the flames.

Officials believe that the fire had been smoldering for several hours between partitions before discovery.

The only occupants of the house, Marino Scaddi, 72, and his wife, Eugenia, 69, escaped injury. They left the house after being awakened by smoke about 11:15 p.m. However, three Arlington firemen were stunned from the fall they took when the roof was blown off.

Robert McCaffrey, Joseph Aloso, and Eugen Del Grazio were thrown from their perch on an aerial ladder by the blast but managed to slide to safety on a hose line attached to the ladder. Three others fighting the blaze in a third floor gable were thrown to the floor by the same explosion.

Fire Department officials estimate the damage at $45,000. Unlike the Spy Pond icehouse fire of 1931, firefighters were able to control the blaze and prevent its spread. In the icehouse fire, 13 other fires resulted from the original blaze.

Fire apparatus from surrounding towns assisted.

Local members of the Red Cross Canteen were called at 2:00 a.m. and were on the scene serving coffee and doughnuts to the firemen until 5:00 a.m. They were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Chamberlain, Mrs. E. L. Glidden and Miss Eileen Connor.

The first phone call went from the police department to Mrs. Herbert Reed, director of Red Cross, around 2 a.m., who in turn got in touch with Mrs. Chamberlain, chairman of the local canteen, and co-operative personal help of Mrs. Kate Kelley, telephone operator on duty at that time, managed to arouse the others, make contacts for getting the food, and arranged for other details. This work was accomplished under the direction of the night chief operator, Mrs. Mae Pritchard.

In addition to this, the Chamberlain car bogged down twice, and it was pushed some distance by a willing and obliging taxi-driver. Canteen equipment had to be picked up at the Robbins House and transported. The coffee was donated by the Bright Spot Restaurant at Arlington Heights, while Freddie's Doughnut Shop in East Arlington donated the doughnuts.

A Boston unit of the Salvation Army was also on hand to provide coffee and doughnuts. Evidently notified earlier, the Salles were first at the scene. However, because of the length and stubbornness of the blaze, the offerings of both the Salvation Army and the Red Cross were consumed with grateful thanks.

Registrars Refuse 6 Requests For Phrases On Ballot

O'Briens Seek Courts

Six requests for phrases such as "lower taxes", "Veteran II", "business school dean", to be inserted on the ballot of the annual election were refused by the Registrars of Voters at a meeting Monday night. The candidates have been notified by registered, special delivery mail, it was said.

Four candidates for town meeting member were so denied as well as two seekers of public office, the O'Brien twins—John H., for assessor, and William J. Jr., for commissioner of the Sinking Fund.

The O'Briens who are seeking the phrase "lower taxes" after their names, appealed to the Superior Court yesterday morning for a writ of mandamus upon the registrars to restrain them from having the ballots printed without the phrase. It is understood they received an informal opinion from the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth which indicated their request was in order.

The O'Briens point to the law which says "shall be added" to the street on which he resides and the designation of the party or principle which he represents. They believe "lower taxes" is a principle.

A possible contention of the registrars, it is felt, is that lower taxes is not in itself a principle which might distinguish one candidate from another. That every one is for lower taxes is axiomatic.

Candidates for Town Meeting member who sought phrases were James P. Koenig, 96 Everett st., "Veteran II"; John B. Fox, 36 Pleasant View rd., "business school dean"; Edward Murphy, 31 Sherborn st., "Veteran II".

William J. O'Brien also sought "lower taxes" as a candidate for TMM from Precinct 3.

An Additional $25,000 Suggested Be Earmarked "If Needed". Administration Will Cost $5,248. Extent of Federal and State Aid Unknown Factor.

VOLUNTEERS

About 900 townspeople have volunteered for local Civil Defense help. However, only 350 have returned the questionnaire. "We need these signed forms before we can go ahead," said Director McFadden on Tuesday.

Right now, he said, about 90 auxiliary firemen are still needed. In addition he plans a pool of about 350 auxiliary police. Thus about 150 more men are needed.

The next biggest need, he said, is under medical help. No quota or goal has been set. "We literally need hundreds and hundreds of women to volunteer in this field," he added. The formation of a women's committee is underway now.

Volunteers may write the office of Civil Defense, Arlington 74, Mass.

MOTHERS' MARCH

By and large the town was fairly well covered last Wednesday during the "Mothers' March" for the March of Dimes. A driving snowstorm hindered some solicitors from making their rounds and made other areas impossible to cover.

A total of $2,989.73 was collected, bringing the grand total to date to $4,471.38 which is behind last year's donations.

Townspeople not contacted may still contribute by mail to: Mothers' March, c/o Clarence Marsh, Box 75, Arlington 74.

The results by precincts show a range from $108 to $321 with precinct 14 topping the list. Generally the drive was considered a fair success with the realization by the organization that even more could have been done.

A HUNDRED TIMES FORTY

Certainly the period of Lent this year should have universal appeal, acceptance and meaning. To the religious the forty days of special penitence becomes a call upon themselves to pray for forgiveness of sins. For surely our sins have been great when one considers the world's chaotic condition. The chief sin has been lack of understanding between men.

It is too easy to forgive one's self by saying "The government got us into this mess; not me." For we are the government. Every day, right here, we practice acts and thoughts which are directly opposed to Jesus' teachings of Brotherhood—practices which, if condoned as a national policy, would keep us in perpetual international war.

For the not-so-religious, and there are so many, the Lenten period of self-denial becomes meaningful to stop frivolous spending. The spiral of inflation now resembles the vortex of an all-consuming hurricane. The loss of our economy with expenditures dwarfing receipts can have only one ultimate result—the loss of our democracy and hallowed institutions for which hundreds of thousands have died.

For us all, the realization must come that we, the peoples of the world, have erred for which young men today are being frozen, blown to bits, and bayoneted. These, for the most part, are not holy men or martyrs who feel their mission in life is to die by their own choosing for a cause. We simply say, "we pulled a boner so you must go out and die—so sorry. We'll try to do better next time."

Somehow we are on the wrong path. The right path must be found. It makes little difference whether one believes The Way is God or God is The Way. When He or It is followed, then the spirit of the Forty Days will bear fruit of a hundred times forty—forty hundred years of peace.

THE GASOLINE TAX

Gasoline taxes added 23 per cent to the cost of gasoline for Massachusetts motorists during 1950, according to Richard F. Paul, Secretary of the Massachusetts Highway Users Conference.

"With so many types of taxes to pay, some people are inclined to overlook or minimize the gasoline tax," Mr. Paul stated. "Yet many citizens will find it among the most expensive taxes imposed on them, and it adds very materially to everyone's motor vehicle operating costs. In fact, the high cost of gasoline taxes—together with other special state and federal taxes levied against motor vehicles—have caused the motorist to be so often called the most heavily taxed person in our state."

He pointed out that the total 4½ cents a gallon gasoline tax in Massachusetts actually consists of two taxes, a 3 cents state levy and federal impost of 1½ cents.

Nothing can bring you peace but yourself; nothing can bring you peace but the triumph of principles.
—Emerson

That Man About Town
By MAT

The hardest working Town committee is now in session. This is the Finance Committee. It is meeting at least two nights weekly and will continue to do so until the Town Meeting in March is concluded. It must study in detail every article which will appear in the warrant and make a recommendation on each. To do this, in detail, the committee is broken up into subcommittees, each of which is assigned to part of the budget and to other articles. The subcommittees have chairmen who must report the findings back to the committee of the whole and then, by a majority vote of the whole, approve or disapprove of the various articles. The chairman of the Finance Committee is J. Howard Hayes, a long suffering individual in a thankless job. It has been his duty to argue for the Finance Committee motions on each and every article in the warrant, regardless of what he personally thinks or believes. This is a burden which few men in Arlington would care to attempt. Yet J. Howard has done this for the past several years. Which now gets us to our point.

It seems to us that Mr. Hayes could be assisted by having the various subcommittee chairmen take some of the burden from his tireless shoulders. Merely by the Finance Committee, as a whole, approving that in case any discussion ensues on the Town Hall floor, the subcommittee chairman most familiar with the subject, take the floor and defend the Finance Committee's position. Mr. Hayes could easily, thereafter, act as the final speaker on the overall policy of the committee and rebut opposition speakers. He might enjoy the meeting much more, at that.

We understand that Representative McEvoy, who represents Districts 1, 3 and 5 of Arlington and part of Somerville, will press the State Legislature for a bill which will eventually, if passed, result in a swimming pool for residents in the vicinity of Dilboy Field. We are still of the opinion that Arlington should have one and that the lower side of the Robbins Playground, on Eastern Avenue, is a good spot for one. Perhaps one of our two Representatives, Keenan or Gott, or both, might start the ball rolling on this. Can either of them think of a better spot?

At this writing, and not as our choices, here is how the "wise boys" figure the contested Town offices. Notice we quote: "Select-

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

By BESSIE H. HARTLING

Abraham Lincoln—how that name shines on History's page! What ideals it awakens in the hearts of men everywhere! Not only in the land of his birth, not only in the hearts of his countrymen—but in foreign lands—from the pens of would-be enemies, there comes a tribute, which lives, and will continue to live throughout the ages—a tribute to a man who loved truth and righteousness and whose life of honest toil has put a new valuation upon honest toil forever.

Abraham Lincoln was born of humble parents; his father was a farmer in pioneering days. He grew up amid homely joys and homely tasks, with homely love made sweet by sacrifice.

No time for schooling, the young Abraham longed for books as other boys long for sports. He spent his few leisure hours adding and subtracting; penning and re-penning, his painful scrawls and numbers on whatever surface was available, with whatever rude crayon was obtainable but he learned, for the desire was deep in his soul, and would not be denied. He taught himself to read, and borrowed books from the schoolmaster. He read everything he could get his hands on—and everything he read was grist to the mill of his mind. Thus he grew in knowledge and in wisdom and noticeably in favor with God and man.

He who was no orator, made a speech at Gettysburg, that was written into the hearts of his hearers by its simple language and the honest beauty of its emotional impact.

He who had little time for love making, humbly loved and humbly endured all his life. He who grew up in the wilds of nature, appreciated law and order, and gave his life to the arts of its preservation. He who believed in liberty for all men, gave up his own liberty and love of peace, that a whole nation might find it.

He who lived in a dark and cruel age, faced that age with unconquerable faith. When effort seemed useless; when the day seemed lost; when the struggle seemed doubtful—he dared to persevere and he led the nation into victory and unity of liberty, and left behind him a shining example for the young republic to follow.

We, too, are living in dark and doubtful days. The struggle seems great; men of faith are all too few. But as we recall the deeds and ideals of this man, we are encouraged to rise and put our faith in God, and never cease in the endeavor to bring about true liberty and freedom for all mankind. We want freedom of thought for all; freedom from prejudice and fear; freedom from crime and cowardice. While we pray, we must not cease to work. Our goal is worth our best effort. We are looking for men of Lincoln's caliber, and we can find them in this great country of ours. Let us give them the chance to lead us on to victory and true peace.

HUMBLING OURSELVES BEFORE GOD

"That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; . . . that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God." (Ephesians 3:17, 19.) Read Ephesians 3:14-21.

OUR Lord saves us by what He does for us and by what He does in us. In this great passage Paul is telling us what our inner life may be if we allow Christ to dwell in our hearts.

Christ can do for us what we cannot do for ourselves. We can make our bodies clean but Christ only can make our hearts clean. We may discipline our minds but Christ only can deal with the problems of attitudes. By resolutions and rules we may seek the good life but the secret of goodness is the Spirit of Christ dwelling in the mystic depths of our beings, purifying the springs of thought, imagination, and feeling.

We do not know ourselves as Christ knows us. He discerns our problems, our possibilities. He is able to control our moods. Paul, therefore, prays that we might know in our inner life the wondrous power of Christ's creative Spirit, even to the point of being "filled with all the fulness of God."

PRAYER

O Lord Christ, do for us what we cannot do for ourselves. Come and dwell in the depths of our beings. Let Thy truth illumine our minds and Thy love purify our hearts. Lead us forth into the service of Thy kingdom. In Thy name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

I will accept Christ, who alone can make and keep me pure within.

Rep. Gott Favors
Abandonment Of Personal Taxes

Immediate abolition of the personal property tax on household furnishings and personal effects such as watches, table silver, jewelry, radios, phonographs and television sets was recommended unanimously last week by the bipartisan Special Commission on Taxation.

Among the signers of the report is Rep. Hollis M. Gott, vice chairman.

In a preliminary report to the Legislature, the Commission condemned the levy as a "major harassment to taxpayers, assessors and collectors alike" and one which results only in "small and scattered revenue."

"There is almost limitless evidence," the Commission said, that this tax is not being and cannot be enforced. The result of partial enforcement has been discrimination, rule-of-thumb methods of assessment, serious inequities as between communities, outright rebellion by some local assessors and public confusion and hostility."

Pointing out that the Special Commission was set up to remove existing inequities in the State's tax structure, the preliminary report declared "no better example of an inequitable tax, one literally impossible of fair administration, can be found than the existing levy on household goods, jewelry, television sets and the like."

Prize Contest Nets
Local Club $55

Many societies are benefiting from the goodwill of a local business firm.

Last month the Paquinex Club of the Calvary Methodist Church swelled its coffers by fifty-five dollars. All benefits—the club, the members through education and the firm through advertising.

Ever since the war Superior Laundry Co. has been striving to re-institute its pre-war policy: the "budget bundle" service, wherein each was individually washed and handled without use of unsightly identification marks. Machinery and equipment have been hard to obtain but now it's done and the Company wants to show everybody how it is managed. The "Superior Visitation Contest," is the result.

Accordingly, civic and church groups are invited to inspect the plant and process. For every member attending, Superior Laundry pays the club treasurer fifty cents. A grand monthly prize is also given. The groups' size is limited to about twenty so that larger clubs divide their numbers into several trips.

The Paquinex club enrolled sixty members, making three trips. The club received $30 and also won the monthly prize of $25 for the biggest attendance. Mrs. Leslie Bingham was in charge for the club.

Friends To Present
"Yeomen of the Guard"

The Arlington Friends of the Drama, Inc. will present as its eighteenth annual musical production, Gilbert & Sullivan's "Yeomen of the Guard," on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 14-17 in the Friends' theatre, Academy and Maple Streets, at 8:15 p.m.

Acclaimed by many critics both in England and America as the finest work of the celebrated team, the "Yeomen of the Guard" is a romantic tale of the Old Tower of London.

Featured in the large cast are Jacqueline Miller, Keith Finney, Mary Jangochian, Ernest Eames, Lew Parks, John Ring, Esther Follette, Pauline Antifantis, Woodward Crowther and Edgar Emery.

Business Manager Milton C. Paige has announced a new seating policy for this production. The

The lecture is under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Cambridge, and will be delivered in the church edifice on Waterhouse st. at Massachusetts Ave. The public is cordially invited.

To Recruit Young People
In Local Flight CAP*Military Service Not Involved

A drive to recruit cadets for the newly-formed "flight" of the Civil Air Patrol will begin in the near future, announced Lt. John Wanamaker, who is in command of the Arlington Flight.

The Patrol, chartered by the Federal Government, has as its main purpose the advancement of aviation in all its phases. It is intended, however, to aid in civil defense and in such projects as "spotting" for fire-fighting groups in forest fires. It has high hopes that it can make the public become concerned with the role of supremacy in the air that it feels America must play.

Any physically fit boy or girl between the ages of 15 and 17 is eligible to join the Patrol. As a member he or she will be able to get training in flight theory, navigation, and numerous other fields of knowledge needed for an understanding of "the Age of Flight".

It is proposed that an assembly be held at the High School at which pictures will be shown describing the functions of the organization. At this time, students will be able to obtain applications for the Civil Air Patrol Cadets. It is suggested that they talk the matter over with their parents. The point to be stressed is that their joining "in no way makes them eligible to be mustered into the armed forces."

Interested readers may obtain information prior to the assembly at the High School by contacting Lt. John Wanamaker, AR 5-3586 days or AR 5-3448 evenings.

UNITARIAN ALLIANCE HONORS REV. MARK

In remembrance of his birthday, which occurred a week ago, the Rev. John Nicol Mark was presented with a purse and a birthday cake at the meeting of the Alliance of the Unitarian Church on Monday morning.

The cake, which was very large and beautifully decorated, was made by Mrs. Richard Bennett, chairman of the committee, which served luncheon following the meeting. The presentation of the gift was made by Mrs. Francis Chamberlain.

Monday's meeting was the first of a series of three morning meetings of the Alliance, at which Mr. Mark will speak. His topic on Monday was "Edwin Markham". He was introduced by Mrs. Donald Pettie, president of the Alliance. Following his talk, the birthday cake was brought in, and the gift presented, all a great surprise to the recipient.

Before and after the meeting, the Evening Alliance conducted a food sale for the benefit of Dr. Joslin's Tubercular Home.

Attends Conference

Mrs. David L. Bramley, class president, attended the 67th meeting of the Alumnae Council of Simmons College on Feb. 3. More than one hundred members attended the all-day session.

The Council is made up of class presidents, Simmons Club presidents, chairman of standing committees, past presidents of the Alumnae Association and alumnae members of the Corporation and Alumnae Executive Board.

BYRNE FAMILY PRAISED

To the Editor: Arlington Advocate

Dear Sir: I noted with interest the candidacy of John B. Byrne, Jr. for Planning Board. Apparently he is following in the footsteps of his father.

Just this month his parents celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary surrounded by ten of their twelve children. One unmarried son sent his regards from New Jersey, and a married daughter in Toledo also sent best wishes from her family of six children.

Those present included five married sons and their wives, one son to be married this week with his bride-to-be, three married daughters and their husbands, and a daughter and her husband-to-be (June, I believe). The last count of grandchildren was twenty-five!

Mr. Byrne's record of citizenship for forty years in Arlington should be worthy of comment. He has always been a worker for a worthwhile cause. The list would be endless: past Grand Knight of the K. of C., past Exalted Ruler of the Elks, member of St. Vincent de Paul Society, and Usher Club at St. Agnes' Church.

And to crown it all he has had twelve years of civic service as a member of the Park Commission building the foundation of the present very successful Park and Recreation system in Arlington.

By the way, I forgot to mention that six of the family served in the armed forces in World War II, and the seventh has now enlisted and will enter within a week or so.

40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Terenzio of 41 Bailey rd. celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary at their home on Saturday evening, Feb. 3. They received many gifts and exquisite floral bouquets from their family and many friends. A buffet supper was served.

John Jr. married an Arlington girl, Carol M. Hall, and has already established himself in business. He owns his own home on Bacon St., and they now have five children. Not unlike his father, he too has record of service in every local post for good. His leadership has already been recognized by his election for two terms as Grand Knight of the K. of C.

A young man with such a family background of unselfish sacrifice and a lifetime of close contact with this town should certainly be encouraged to take part in town affairs. We need such men.

Very truly yours,
H. Blanche Frederickson

BOYS' CLUB BIGGER

January 26, 1951

To the Editor: Arlington Advocate

To set the record straight I want to call your attention to two items in the Advocate of January 25, 1951.

On page 7—Arlington Scouts boast the largest organization in town. There are 550 Cubs, 350 Scouts, 28 Explorers and 250 adults giving a total of 1178 citizens involved in Scouting.

On page 9 same edition—the figures for the enrollment at the Boys Club—Midgets 424, Juniors 476, Intermediates 266, Seniors 61 for a total of 1227. These figures do not include 34 Board Members, 200 Dads' Club Members, Ladies Auxiliary or Staff Members.

This is not an attempt to belittle Scouting, for which I have a profound respect after working for many years in all branches of Scouting. This is an effort to keep the record straight on the Arlington Boys' Club.

Respectfully,
James H. Sumner
Executive Director
Arlington Boys' Club

Sex-Men Giving Annoyance Still

Another sex incident was reported to police to have taken place at Florence ave. and Appleton st. about 11 p.m. Thursday night. While details of the molestation are being withheld, a description of the man is given.

He is described as about 30 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches in height, weighing about 140. He has dark hair, mustache, dark complexion and pointed features. He wore a brown corduroy jacket.

Earlier Monday morning, about 6:30 a.m., the slippery exhibitionist, believed to be another man, whose bold antics have been previously publicized made another appearance at the corner of Burch and Lake streets. He was dressed somewhat as he has been in the past, being attired in Army shoes, a pea-jacket, blue baseball hat, and service pants. No mention was made of the white handkerchief over the lower face, as usually reported.

His escapades have dated from Friday morning when police received a complaint from another young woman. Her description and that of the report of Monday morning's appearance coincide and both give his age as between 17-18.

STORY OF A RUMOR

We think it's such fun to be a reporter.

It all began when the Advocate learned that a rumor concerning a girl (or girls) had been attacked at the Lake st. depot—or thereabouts—sometime last week.

Since a few minor details such as just Who, What, When, Where, How, and Why were not quite clear, it was decided to track down the rumor because of the widely-publicized attacks of the last few weeks.

The first step was to contact the police. They had no such information and had not even heard the rumor. Well, muse, perhaps it wasn't reported. Let's start at the beginning.

So we did by asking the party who informed us. This person referred us to a young man. A phone call to him revealed that his sister had told him. And who told her? A housewife.

Okay, Madam, who told you? Her daughter, of course. And who told you, young lady? She doesn't remember. But, we argue, it's not the sort of story you forget about, let alone where you heard it. Well, is it?

She recalls now. It's, oh, so clear! At school, naturally, when a "bunch of the girls..." Okay, who was with you when you heard it? She concentrates hard. Up cost of phone calls, traveling expense, reporter's pay, cost of setting this up in type—Ed.]

There is, we're sure, a moral to the story. But what it is we're not quite sure—although, we have heard a rumor that...

*Yeah, we know, the manager who just went berserk adding up the cost of phone calls, traveling expense, reporter's pay, cost of setting this up in type—Ed.]

Yes, she heard it all right. That's right, the girls were talking and... We repeat the oft-asked question: "Who said Lake st.? Who knew the name of the girl (or girls) attacked?" She is stumped there but gives us a number to call.

We make the call and find a nervous girl on the other end of the line. She gives us the same story. She doesn't know anything for sure but perhaps her girl friend might.

She doesn't. In fact, she never heard a thing about it. Perhaps, though, a friend of the friend who referred her to us might have an idea. We call the friend. She does have an idea. She thinks it's a very good idea if we stop bothering people in the middle of supper.

Sniffing defeat in the air, we take one more crack at the hardest nut in the world to crack—a rumor. We pay a visit to a lady who, it was rumored, knew someone who witnessed the attack. Well, we did get somewhere there but just two weeks too late. She told us in great detail of an attack that was publicized two weeks ago and we nodded in great interest. That brings us smack up to the moment.

There is, we're sure, a moral to the story. But what it is we're not quite sure—although, we have heard a rumor that...

*Yeah, we know, the manager who just went berserk adding up the cost of phone calls, traveling expense, reporter's pay, cost of setting this up in type—Ed.]

Prospecting the Project

(ARLINGTON VETERANS' HOUSING PROJECT)
by Harriet Fitzgerald

Small children and their activities play a big part in the everyday life of our project. And most families, although still unacquainted with the parents, can recognize the majority of the children living here.

Thus, the Ronald Geswell family of 31 Fremont Court are not entire strangers to us. We were deeply moved when word came to us that little Jean Geswell, age four, one of twins, had a fractured skull, the result of a fall from the cellar stairs to the cement floor of the cellar. The youngster is a patient at the Symmes Arlington Hospital where she is recovering as well as can be expected.

Jimmy Collins, year and a half old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Collins of 54 Fremont st., this week welcomed home Mrs. Collins and a baby sister, born Jan. 15, at the Boston Lying-In Hospital. Mr. Collins was a radioman 2nd class in the Navy during the last war and is now employed by the United States Post Office Department.

We point with pride to Mr. Harold O'Leary, one of Arlington's finest, who with another policeman, participated in the capture of a quintet of escaped prisoners from Fort Devens. This isn't the first time Patrolman O'Leary has noticed recognition recently. Mr. O'Leary resides at 10 Fremont st. with his wife Frances and his two children, Patricia and Dennis.

Too bad some provision can't be made for veterans' wives and

Congratulations go to Mr. William Tucker of 53 Fremont Court who graduated last week from Boston University. Mr. Tucker received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration. A veteran of the Army, he served in the South Pacific during World War II. He is married to the former Corinne Kester of Ann Arbor, Michigan and is the father of two girls, Karen and Lorraine.

There is a danger to our children on the property adjacent to the Housing Project, belonging to the Purcell family, and no one seems to be able to remedy it. It is a 2 to 3 foot excavation, some 25 feet in width, which to the delight of the youngsters, is flooded and frozen. It makes a delightful skating rink but what happens when the ice melts enough to break under the weight of one of these children? The mothers at that end of the project spend their days in fear for their wandering offspring.

Peters - Wichman

TROY LASHES VOTERS' COUNCIL

In a typewritten statement, labeled "Open letter to newspapers of Arlington," Kenneth P. Troy lashes the Voters' Council for what he called "iron curtain politics." He also charges that irrelevant questions were asked of him by members of the qualifications committee during his audience with them.

The letter follows:

February 1, 1951
"As a candidate for the 5-year term for the Arlington Housing Authority in the coming election, I was recently confronted with an impediment which I found very vexatious, and which was criticized by many of the voters as well as the candidates.

"This impediment, or obstacle, is the Voters' Council of Arlington, who although not very powerful, can certainly cause a lot of public commotion, confusion, disorder and agitation, not only to the townfolk, but to the new candidates seeking office as well. The Council certainly cannot think too much of the intelligence of the candidates, or the voters of Arlington, to be so forward in taking these undue liberties.

The Council chose their favorite candidates nine days before the nomination papers were terminated. Now this might be expected in Philadelphia, 'the city of brotherly love', or some of the other large cities throughout the nation, but it definitely does not belong in a respectable community such as Arlington. I went to the inconvenience of appearing before this Council because I was requested to, although I was cognizant as to the outcome a week in advance. A good many of the candidates, their families and friends want the Arlington Voters' Council ruled out of the town politics.

"I spoke to the Council regarding my qualifications and was asked only four questions. Two of these are worth repeating here. In speaking of my contact with the Veterans in my capacity as Veterans' Investigator for the Town of Arlington, I mentioned the need of the Veteran and other Veterans' problems regarding the present housing shortage. I was asked, 'Where do you work Mr. Troy?' That was one of the questions.

"This is another one of the four: I had just finished a statement that I was an Arlington-born resident and had always lived in Arlington. Less than a minute later I was asked, 'How long have you lived here, Mr. Troy?' This was a wasted cause as far as I am concerned. If it was meant to be amusing, the Council should have had their little meeting of the candidates televised because with questions like that being asked the candidates regarding their qualifications, the candidate could have ad-libbed some very amusing humor.

"With the interest shown this year by so many young men in

Dispatch from Spain

Matorra, Spain—(Air Mail by William B. Dillingham) — The day at Arenys Beach, as usual, was tranquil and quiet. The arrival of the Danish tourists was an unexpected event; as it turned out it made Arenys history.

It all began when two married couples, vacationing in Spain, appeared on the beach one afternoon and proceeded to enjoy the Mediterranean sun. It wasn't long before several comments were made by passing citizens, but since the Danish language is far removed from Spanish, the bathers just shrugged their shoulders and continued about their business, enjoying the beach.

Less than a half hour had elapsed when three vehicles bearing official emblems came to a sliding, screeching halt near the tourists. Uniformed men poured out, raced across to the bathers, threw blankets around the two young ladies and began to direct the entire Danish group toward the vehicles. In a few moments the three cars were flashing down the road with full siren accompaniment.

A foreigner who was unfamiliar with the laws and customs of Spain might have thought that some arch criminals had been caught off guard on a Sunday afternoon. Any Spanish citizen could tell you without a moments thought that the charge was immorality.

Women wearing two piece bathing suits instead of the more "proper" complete garment that does not expose the center area must not appear in public. Men who choose to ignore the propriety of a complete bathing suit with straps over the shoulders are also violating the law. The brief waist trunks are strictly for the "immoral neighbors".

This attitude prevails consistently all through Spanish law. Every aspect of life here is well integrated and strongly governed by the morality issue. "Spiritual purity" has become one of the chief duties of the government censor. It was, for example, not until very recently that the ban on the books of Sigmund Freud was lifted.

The legal viewpoint is just a part of the general curfew on everything that might remotely pertain to sex. Even today, although Mr. Freud's books have been legalized within Spain (but only after steaming debate), psycho-analytic viewpoints, discussions and ideas frowned upon. An edition about this subject is never displayed openly in a bookshop; it is asked for in a low whisper and usually comes from under the counter already wrapped.

One interesting piece of information on this subject is that the officials of the principal libraries in Spain have never heard of the Kinsey Report. The closest publication one can find is a pamphlet on an American whiskey. Every Englishman, Frenchman, German, Italian and Scandinavian knows of the international dispute and attention this book has received, but Spain's morality censorship has been so complete that even the librarians have not the vaguest idea of its existence.

It easily follows, then, in the light of this attitude, why there is a firm control on art, underwear advertisements (usually obscured by a mosquito netting) and the Spanish version of the pin-up girl (Esquire girls are strictly taboo).

The censorship bureau, which is composed of the civil and ecclesiastic interests, makes certain that everybody remains pure. In many of the smaller cities male citizens who appear on the street without a jacket are subject to penalty; an ordinary shirt is considered too brief.

The final touches are added on Sunday morning when the ladies who enter church are required to wear long sleeves completely down to the wrist.

Everybody has heard the story of the French madamelle who, when told by the Spanish Guardia de Civil that she could not wear a two piece bathing suit, said, "Well then, which piece must I remove?"

Red and Gray Jottings

by Eleanor Derby

Congratulations to the Class of '52 at Arlington High School for sponsoring a very successful Junior Prom. Special felicitations to Audie Dale, the Prom chairman, and her hard-working committee.

The gala affair was climaxed by the choosing of lovely Mary Lafayette as the Prom Queen.

Our hockey, basketball, and track teams were not too successful last week-end but we're all looking forward to next week-end when it's our turn!

Today the Red and Gray spotlight is proud to focus its radiance on a boy in whom we all take a great deal of pride—Dana Spencer. He was recently announced as one of the forty winners in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search, a nation-wide competition. He will soon go to Washington where he will compete against the other thirty-nine for top scholarships. We all wish him the best of luck! Besides being an honor student at A.H.S., Dana participates in many outside activities, including the tennis team and rifle club.

Orders are now being taken for yearbooks in all senior homes. We hope to receive the books sometime in May before we graduate.

The Red and Gray Extravaganza, sponsored by the P.T.A. Council of the Fine Arts Program, consists of two wonderful programs, the first of which will be George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion." It will be produced by the Tributary Players on Friday evening, Feb. 16th. Dancing to the music of Ken Reeve's orchestra will follow. The second program will be a concert given by the Harvard-Radcliffe Glee Clubs and will also be followed by dancing. Refreshments will be served both nights. These programs have been planned especially for the teenagers of Arlington. Don't miss them!! Tickets may be bought from any member of the student committee.

The Arlington Y-Teen Girls' Club recently played hostess to the female members of the student body at A.H.S. The program was introduced by Nancy Ham, president, and consisted of two of John Robert Powers' models who talked to the girls on the importance of making the best of your features, and good-grooming. The program was enjoyed immensely by all who attended.

MELROSE MAULS
RED & GRAY, 6-2

The Red & Gray sextet slipped farther down the icy G.B.I. ladder when Saturday's game found them on the short end of a 6-2 score against Melrose at the Arena.

Bob Marsolais, Red Raider threat, wasted little time in denting the Arlington strings. He whipped one by Goalie Robertson, substituting for Phil Morgan, in 9:13 of the first period. Arlington's Bill Vassili managed to slip through a short time after the second period opened.

The tie was short-lived. Marsolais came right back with another and Andy Cicoria added number three for the Melrose ice-men. Before the second chukker was over, Cicoria, assisted by Marsolais, lighted the bulb for Melrose, making it 4-1.

Two more tallies for the Raiders came in the last stanza when Kenneth pushed one in unassisted and another with help from Henningar. A token goal by Don O'Brien ended the scoring.

Experience A Cog In Bill's Defeat

There was no disappointment in Coach "Doc" McCarty's voice when he gave his explanation of track sensation Bill Squires' loss to Al Porter Saturday in the Class B mile. Squires finished a scant two yards behind the New Bedford Vocational flash.

"Doc" chuckled and said, "Experience won that one. Bill can always pick that up as he goes along."

The "Doc" explained that Porter's experience allowed him to box Bill up and, in the turn at the last bank, he forced Squires to lose precious feet when he made him take the turn wide.

However there was no touch of ignominy in this race, for Porter broke the League record with a sizzling 4:34.5 for time. Squires had broken the record earlier in the season and came back later to best his own time.

"Doc" said he did not feel that he was going out on any limb when he made a far-future prediction. "Someday," he predicted, "we'll see Billy in the Hunter Mile." Doc believes he'll take it, too!

Need Legislative Act Says Keenan

The main point of Rep. Henry E. Keenan's stand, he has explained, in regard to the transfer of the land off Concord Turnpike is that no land should be sold to private interests by the MDC except by legislative act.

"This land was turned over to the Metropolitan District Commission in 1908 with the expressed instructions to clear up the bad drainage conditions. This has not been accomplished. Therefore, in my opinion, no land should be sold until it is done," he said.

A portion of the land has already been sold for sums estimated between sixteen and thirty thousand dollars and now is reported for sale for over $100,000. The original acreage of the entire plot was purchased by the communities of Arlington, Belmont, Somerville and Cambridge for about $40,000 and turned over to the MDC to handle the drainage problem.

Keenan's bill, House 183, calls for the transfer of the land after being properly drained to the MTA for a possible rapid transit terminal.

"The authorities of the four communities should seek clarification of this whole issue," he said. "If concerted action is not taken now the land-grabbing will go on."

Keenan also questions whether the present private owners have a clear title.

"If I am right, I am right; if I am wrong, I am wrong," he said, "but let's get the matter cleared up, once and for all."

Keenan has asked the 15-man Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, of which he is a member, to come out and view the site and its surroundings.

$75,000 Fund Given Under Will Of Fr. O'Connor

A scholarship fund of $75,000 donated by the late Rev. Dr. Maurice J. O'Connor, who was pastor of St. James' Church here, is being set up at the Catholic University of America at Washington, D. C. to provide tuition, room and board for priests from the poorer dioceses of the country to take graduate work at the University. Most Rev. P. J. McCormick, rector of the University, announced this week.

Father O'Connor, who received his doctorate at Catholic University in 1903, started the scholarship fund in 1934 with instructions that it should remain anonymous while he still lived. Upon his death on Dec. 17, 1950, near the 53rd anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood, it had reached the sum of $50,000.

Under his will, the three sisters were directed to add $25,000 to the original bequest, which has been done. The sisters are Miss Mary O'Connor, Miss Annie O'Connor and Mrs. Patrick L. Everett, all of Natick, who advised Bishop McCormick of the additional $25,000 bequest in a letter from Mrs. Everett.

As soon as details of the scholarship fund have been completed at Catholic University, and the number of grants that the income from the fund will provide is determined, Bishop McCormick will announce the terms under which the fund will operate throughout the country can designate priests to take the graduate studies provided in the endowment.

The Rev. and Mrs. Milton F. Schadege have the sympathy of their parishioners and other friends in the recent death of Mr. Schadege's mother, in Seattle, Wash.

Panel Discussion On Cost of Schools Proves Very Informative To Parents

A feast of information about elementary education in general and the Arlington public schools in particular was offered a fine crowd at the Parmenter P.T.A. meeting Monday evening. Dr. Arthur H. Wuehrmann, chairman of the program committee introduced the panel of speakers, whose discussion was centered around the theme: "How Much Education does your Tax Dollar Buy?"

They included Professor James W. Daily of M.I.T., parent of a pupil in the school; John P. Moirine, chairman of the Arlington School Committee; J. Howard Hayes, chairman of the Arlington Finance Committee; Martin F. Roach, chairman of the subcommittee on schools of the Arlington Finance Committee; and John E. Marshall, administrator for the School Building Assistance Commission for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Kenneth Cameron, principal of the Parmenter School, acted as moderator.

Lyman Owens, superintendent of schools, Wellesley, was unable to participate as had been announced.

Dual Objective
As the dual objective of public school education Professor Daily listed, first, an educated citizenry socially and morally adjusted for living and working in a world with other people, and second, an informed citizenry prepared to exercise democratic self government.

Mr. Morris pointed out that, like any family, our town must plan its budget within the limits of the town's ability to pay. After accepting the standard that our teachers must be well-paid, well-qualified members of the profession, a list of needed improvements both in physical plant and extended services and curriculum is followed in a systematic way.

After ably presenting the schools' financial picture graphically, Mr. Hayes pointed out that citizens of Arlington should consider their taxes not as a certain amount per thousand, but as a total tax bill on a given property, comparing it with the bills on similar properties in neighboring towns.

Mr. Roach presented further details of the schools' financial picture, and showed that Arlington's expenditure per pupil is just about average for the Commonwealth.

Above Average
Mr. Marshall emphatically brought out that for this "average expenditure" Arlington has maintained a school system far above the average, and that our schools' graduates rank high with the graduates of other outstanding school systems. He pointed out that raising educational standards throughout the state is a worthy objective, for "you cannot quarantine ignorance."

"Our purpose should be, not so much to increase the amount of money spent, but to see that in each phase of the work standards are being held as high as they can be maintained," he said.

During the brief business session conducted by Mrs. Von Weston, president, it was voted to authorize purchase and installation of a public address system for the Parmenter building, an objective being met through the joint efforts of Cub Pack 43 and the Parent Teacher organization.

Work On Alewife Brook Continues

Two weeks ago the contracting firm of T. R. Rawson, Inc. started construction on the second section of the riprapping of the Alewife Brook between Arlington and Cambridge. This will continue the present work to Massachusetts Ave.

The Massachusetts District Commission also awarded the Berke-Moore Company the contract for the building of a new pumping station in the rear of the present pumping station at the junction of Alewife Brook Parkway and Mystic Valley Parkway. This pumping station is necessary to put into operation the 60 inch pipe for the removal of sewerage and pollution from the Alewife Brook and the Mystic River. This will also remove much of the pollution from lower Mystic Lake, which is now polluted by the sewerage overflowing from Alewife Brook.

The work is the result of legislation requested by Representative Henry E. Keenan of Arlington. Riprapping will be continued to the Mystic River, eventually it is planned. It will help to clear up and beautify the Alewife Brook and the Mystic River and improve the appearance of the two parkways.

You and Me and the Other Fellow

"Do you think the old 8:08 will run today, Dad?" asked my 12-year-old son as my family scrambled for breakfast last Monday. "The radio said the situation is bad."

"From what I hear, I think the B and M will run, Son, but a railroad strike such as this points up how much everybody in the United States is dependent upon the other fellow."

"That's right," said my high school daughter, "without trains we certainly wouldn't have such a variety of foods as regularly as we do today."

"And that goes for an awful lot of other things as well," I broke in, "for our country has grown on mass production and mass distribution, and so far there has been no form of transportation that can move as many things and as many people as far and as quickly as the railroads."

I took my last sip of coffee, glanced at my watch and started for the train. Curious, I thought to myself, it was about this time last year that the coal strike caused inconvenience in commuter services.

I couldn't help a passing thought, too, about the many travelers who were stranded when trains stopped running.

And as my train pulled in, I realized again how much in life, in this particular day and age, is dependent upon cooperation.
